

Welcome to Minnesota History Class! In this class, we will explore the rich and diverse history of Minnesota. We will learn about the Dakota and Ojibwe people, immigration to the state, significant events such as the Dred Scott case, homesteading, the rise of St. Paul as a gangster haven during prohibition, the growth of the suburbs after WWII, and much more.

Throughout the course, we will be encouraging each student to explore and tell their own unique Minnesota story. This can be their family's story, their personal experience living in Minnesota, or any other relevant story that has shaped their understanding of the state.

In addition to classroom discussions, you will be asked to go on a family field trip to a historic site in Minnesota. This trip will allow you to experience firsthand the history and culture of the state, and provide a deeper understanding of the material covered in class.

Through the use of videos, discussions, literature, an escape room, and other hands-on activities, students will have a lot of fun exploring the fascinating history of Minnesota!
