

Prepare your student to learn and thrive academically.

Homeschooled students in junior and senior high need advanced academic skills—and the sooner they learn them, the more successful they'll be and the less pain they'll experience. This class will give students the mental and social skills they need to function well in the classroom and manage their assignments efficiently and successfully, laying a solid foundation for post-high school education and employment.

Areas of focus include:

- Reading for information
- Increasing reading speed
- Increasing reading comprehension
- Memory techniques
- Research skills, including online research
- Learning styles and Multiple Intelligences
- Note-taking methods
- Outlining
- Presentations and papers
- Test-taking strategies
- Netiquette
- Communicating with teachers
- Peer-to-peer learning
- Study routines
- Time management
- Stress management tools

Technology Requirement: Internet access required (needed to watch videos, conduct online research, etc.) and word-processing software such as Microsoft Word.